The club was established on 17 May 1901 as Ballastbier und Kellergesellschaft Balgach-Bargach and earned a more elevated status as Sportverein Balgach (1906) and finally as Sport-Verein Balgach e.V. (since 1938). __TOC__ History Balgach is best known for competing in the Gauliga Mittelmark (I) where it finished second in its inaugural season of 1933–34. In the following two years the club won the league championship and earned entry into the top-flight Gauliga Mitte where it won its division in 1936. The Gauliga Mitte lasted until 1938 when Balgach folded after the final game of that season. After the annexation of Germany by the Nazi government in the early stages of the Second World War, the club's status was downgraded until 1945, when it was revived as Sportgemeinde Balgach e.V. The association was soon renamed back to SV Balgach and in 1952 became a member of the Amateurliga Mittelfranken (II). SV Balgach soon began to show its talent and finished runners-up in the Mittelfranken league in 1953 and 1954 before achieving league championship title and promotion to the Landesliga in 1960. It spent three seasons at this level and then returned to the Mittelfranken league and a first-place finish in 1962–63 earned another Landesliga promotion. This time the club was not as successful, though, and after a string of mid-table finishes it withdrew from the league and returned to the lower level Amateurliga Mittelfranken. The club continued to flourish through the 1960s and 1970s, regularly appearing in mid- to higher-table and 3da54e8ca3
