Listen to live loops, practice in your favourite song, set up your own practice sessions with your own backing track, record your own tracks, and work on your recording technique with the iRehearse Phrase Trainer and Phrase List. iRehearse Highlights: - Phrase training takes place live using real audio clips. No MIDI file required. - Easily repeat, re-pitch, re-time and re-record your loops. - With the built-in E-Quartet interface, you can adjust the instrument EQ for any of the instruments in your project. - The best Phrase Training App iRehearse Frequently Asked Questions: Is it a software or hardware product? The app is designed to work with iOS devices, all you need is a headphone or speaker. I've never used Propellerhead's Reason app, is there a way to use that in the app? There is no direct connection to Reason, but the Pianoteq piano engine is integrated with iRehearse, and is an option in the piano section of iRehearse. Can I import MIDI files? Yes you can import audio, MIDI and DAW format (.wav,.aiff,.aif,.wav,.pcm) files. Can I export an audio file? Yes, you can easily save your edited audio files and then send them to your favourite audio production apps such as Logic, Reaper, Cubase or Ableton. Do you have a support desk? Yes! Feel free to contact us through the website! Screenshots: iRehearse Review I'm using it with the reaper backend, for me it works well, because you can choose which solo or loop to solo or loop the only problem I had was that the transitions between loops were too fast and some of them would be twice as fast as it should be, i'm talking about the solo and solo transitions of the phrase in a track, so I will try to play with the tempo to see if that helps, but you can try it and you will see if it helps you. Our teams have been working very hard and have managed to build an amazing, fast and flexible tracking app that can help musicians to jam at home or in the studio, in any track, from any instrument or keyboard. We hope iRehearse will be useful for you, as a Propellerhead team
