I am very new to Objective-C and Xcode and wanted to get an idea of where to start with learning. What's a good article or book or guide to learn Objective-C for Xcode, or for Mac in general? A: I would suggest jumping straight into the Apple documentation: Beginning iOS 5 Development, Beginning Mac OS X Development. I would also recommend Brandon Rhodes' Objective-C: The Complete Guide to Mac OS X & iOS. If you're looking for other resources, I recommend Apple's free WWDC 2011 training videos, and Jonathan Freeman's excellent Cocoa Fundamentals. Q: Unable to find I've seen this question asked on the website numerous times, and each time it's been resolved, but in my case I'm unable to figure out what's going on. It has to do with packages, which I'm very new to, as I'm quite the novice. The exact same code is being used by two different people, but only one is getting the same error. I can provide my console.log output below, as well as an image of the error. "use strict"; var app = angular.module('MainApp', []); app.config(function ($stateProvider, $urlRouterProvider) { $stateProvider.state('login', { url: '/login', templateUrl: 'Login.html', controller: 'LoginController' });
