SVURVOHVM 10/31/2017 RarmaRadio Is fun to use, easy to navigate, but has very few artists of any real merit, the few that are here are taken from their radio station of origin, all are very bland. They are not even good stream sources, most of the time it keeps stalling, skipping, or playing a different song than what was requested and it does not recognize names or names that are entered, and the interface with the music player in the nav bar is very awkward, a bad user experience, this needs some serious work. To manage your TV schedule and find out what is on TV in the Philippines, You can use the app, TV Time. The app includes a web portal where you can access a comprehensive range of TV listings and additional information such as information on each television show or movie, actors and actresses, directors, and TV stations. You can search for shows by genre, channel, series, and by year. The results can be sorted by the aforementioned criteria. Once you get the information you want, you can click to get detailed information on the selected TV shows or movies. You can then select any one of the shows and see a list of TV shows that are airing the same day, next day, and so on. You can also see all TV shows that are scheduled to be aired, including the premiere date, duration, and a short description. You can also bookmark TV shows and share them with your friends, just like you can with bookmarks for the web.
