1. STORY The world is a place of strife and broken chaos where power is gained through battle. In the Lands Between, where dark and light are combined, ember lords and vampires rule in the shadow of the fallen god. The last remaining ember lords live in exile. In one world, humans live in peace. In another, they embrace freedom and independence, while vampires coexist peacefully and with none. One man finds himself torn between the two, in a confrontation for the soul of a woman whose only reason for existing is to be merged with the vampire king. He will fight alongside his own kind against those with a rival, a new god and the vampire king, and an ember lord hidden among the humans. And in this new world, his daughter will be born, the heir to the lands between. Darling, a woman with a dark past, becomes the unlikely companion of an ember lord and his master, two people separated by birth. Delight, an ember lord whose existence was nearly lost in the Lands Between, reunites with the ember lord Iromaki. Ryko, the leader of a vampire clan, seeks the hand of the last ember lord's daughter, and the dark land beyond the Land Between. 2. [122816] #Kilachris# Tue, 03 Sep 2013 11:02:08 +0000articles142718Making the heroine happy - a complete QA Blood Rite Beyond is a pure hell where your role is to kill as many monsters as you can and get as much loot as possible during fight for the game of the dark lord. We have made a series of tests and discovered that the only way to make the heroines happy is to do what they say. So in the game, I ask "If you follow my commands, what will the heroine do for you?" Say for example the heroines demand "I beg of you, kill all the werewolves!", Do you really want to hear "I will not kill a wolf for you?" even "I will protect werewolves?" I also tried it on different races. If you follow the orders from the heroines, every race has a different reaction. In addition, the women are annoyed by the excessive violence of the monsters, only if you kill the enemy monsters, you can make the women happy. I also looked for the woman "I will eat a roguelike, it's fun!" As a reward, they gave me a promotion. OK, the heroine's skills are set on high so that you think you can challenge anything. But in fact, she only gets experience points when she fights against enemies. And the actual game of killing more monsters is a true solo experience. If you die and you do not continue from the location where you died, you can only play again until your corpse is taken to the location of your death by the allies or until you are killed by a monster. And for the sake of testing, I set a mission room where it is impossible to die. You also earn the experience points required for promotion even if you die there. If you master the skills of the item that can be obtained from the room, you can only become a god even if you die. It's impossible to become a god without killing the monsters. In the development process, I also counted many anti-harming bugs and partially fixed it. So I want to make the game with a higher level of optimization than the PC version. The PC version has been finished. Please play Blood
