There is a form and when someone clicks on the'send' button the script redirects to a page that says "please send feedback". On that page they have a dropdown box that lets you pick an answer from a list. The problem is that their backend system is coded in PHP and they want the website to auto redirect. We changed the siteurl for the site, but now when someone clicks'send', the page loads, but it does not redirect as it should and they do not see the 'please send feedback' message. What is the correct way to fix this? A: Simple solution is to use javascript redirect (even within the same page): window.location.href = 'URL_WHERE_YOU_WANT_TO_GO'; Q: How to apply 'conditional rowsum' for a dataframe column for multiple number of conditional factor values? I want to add up a column across multiple conditional factor values. I have a dataframe with a numeric column called 'ID' that I want to multiply by a numerical factor according to the conditional factor values in a new column, called 'Factors'. For example, given a dataframe: ID Factors 1 #1 2 #1, #2 e79caf774b

Globalization, interdependence, and digital communication systems:. Shanmugam,Â K. (1981).Practical, accurate, and sensitive methods for long-term monitoring of carbon and nitrogen in soils. Dissolved organic carbon (DOC) is a key component of soil organic matter (SOM) and its availability to plants is dependent on the relative content of recalcitrant and labile organic matter. However, little is known about the processes regulating its distribution in soils over longer timescales or in the context of succession. Here, we report on the use of a custom-built 2-L sequential distillation extraction (SDE) system and a 10-L version of this system to monitor changes in DOC concentrations in the French Alps over a period of seven years. We combined these approaches with standard chemical methods to determine the temporal patterns of DOC mobilization and determine the relations between $(13)C/(12)C$ and $(15)N/(14)N$ isotope ratios of soil DOC and N. Over the first five years, we observed similar patterns in DOC mobilization and $(13)C/(12)C$ and $(15)N/(14)N$ isotope ratios within a group of primary-succession sites. In contrast, over a period of one year a significant shift in $(13)C/(12)C$ and $(15)N/(14)N$ ratios of DOC and N was observed within a grassland site. This study highlights the complexity of both the dynamic processes operating in soils and the factors that may affect the isotopic signals. Our methods are therefore applicable for the long-term monitoring of carbon and nitrogen partitioning in soils and their use in practice will be illustrated.Q: css class attribute for select from option i was wondering, if someone can give me a hint, how do i create a css class attribute for a specific option in an html select element? thx, mindy A: I think you want to use the option value attribute. foo bar baz IEEE 802.16e-2005: "Part 16: Air Interface for Fixed and Mobile Broadband Wireless Access Systems"; and IEEE 802.16m-2010: "
