Passive Income is an immersive virtual reality experience, where you play the role of an expert advisor to a wealthy young socialite. Help her create a unique lifestyle with your professional advice as she seeks out and purchases the best designer items. Make the right recommendations to help her look gorgeous, sound better and improve her social life. The game begins with a quaint introduction to the wealthy socialite, her daily routine and her love of shopping. Choose what items she should wear and then guide her. You can select which items the socialite wants by clicking on them. You can even ask her questions and hear her answer you in an in-game voice! Passive Income brings the luxury lifestyle to life with VR. Listen to the music, watch the models walk, tell the socialite what you like, order her to go to a store and she will do it, if that store sells that item. The ultimate VR shopping experience. Passive Income brings social VR into your living room. You may download this item for free from the Google Play or Apple App stores. Shift's "Advent" has come and gone, and now the Aspects are ready to take their revenge. The time has come to choose your Aspect. Those who follow Peashy to the top have the upper hand... but Aspect Servants must fight a long and exhausting battle. Adventure through "battles" where you wield the power of your fighter Aspect in order to defeat your enemies. Easily control your Aspect Servants and battle in three stances: Hand to Hand, Ranged, and Magic. Defend your fortress at any cost and power up your precious Aspect servants. Finally, choose who you want to be, the strong or the weak, the Ruler or the Leader, and you'll live with your choice as you go against your foes. *When you complete both "Aspects" your followers will begin to move, attack, and ask questions. *The opening screen will have a portrait of the Aspect you have chosen. *Discord under the item names will show which Aspects you have unlocked. *If you choose to play as Peashy when you complete the game, the opening screen will have a portrait of her. *Also when you complete the game and complete all levels there will be a medal roll screen that can be viewed in the higher difficulty settings. This medal will tell you the status of each of your Aspects and your lowest number will determine which Aspect Servant is deleted. *If you have saved progress when playing the game and purchase this DLC via that save file, you will be able to select whichever character you wish from the character selection screen. Choose Your Servants Based on the same method you use to create characters in "Shared World", "Aspects" is the next step in War of Emperium. In "Aspects" you can create Aspect Servants to make your own unique "War of Emperium" teams. Select one of the 6 Aspects: Creation Aspect (One Life, One Will) Lover Aspect (Infected by Love) Devotee Aspect (You'll Never Give Up) Colonel Aspect (Leader) Ruler Aspect (Those Who Win Will Live) Peashy Aspect (Standing On The Side of Justice) While you have c9d1549cdd

Choose your favorite character from two possible characters. You have three characters. Bowler, the representative of easy levels. He collects an extra life if he touches a block or snake on the level. Bowler, the representative of moderate levels. It not only collects an extra life, but also earns 3 coins for each touch. Auctioneer, the representative of difficult levels. It collects not only an extra life, but also earns 5 coins for every touch. The level is represented by the grid. You start at the position marked by the red arrow. Blocks are controlled by the environment. They move toward you or the trap placed in the environment. Snake, the enemy. It seeks the player. The player can avoid the enemy and touch the blocks to get coins, coins are stored in the inventory. You collect coins and extra life to buy upgrades or items, or go back to the exit. Stuck in a level? Use bombs, touch doors and spikes. You can save your game and return to the level you were stuck in. Game Rules: Game has single player mode and multiplayer mode. The difference between the two modes is in the "Lock" - "Unlock" system. If you need to solve a level, download and install the level and start the app. On the screen with the game title, there is the icon of the level you are playing right now. The icon is marked in red. If your game is saved, you will be able to play the saved game from the menu. If you need to load a game, click the Save Game icon. Game is unlocked in the same way. You can download and install the game and play the saved game from the menu. Your progress is saved even if you restart the game. Game saves your rating. Your past performance is saved. Your rating is saved so you can resume playing the game from where you left it. If there are other players playing the game, you can share your score with them. What's new:

Species, Scientists Building Fabulous Carbon Skeletons World Gone Wild As the natural world struggles to survive, small efforts are being made to preserve the light it sheds on the human condition. Carbon Fractionation & Fractal Thinking Shutterstock California is among the top states when it comes to mounting an initiative to save threatened species from extinction. Oregon, Washington, and New Mexico work to keep their rivers in good shape. New York state has more than 1,000 reptiles and amphibians awaiting crucial protection. Even the New York City government is embracing the subject with gusto. That sense of urgency is beginning to permeate the American political sphere. It's helped by a growing body of science that recognizes the disastrous consequences of biodiversity loss. It's also helped by the rise of individuals such as Larry Makar, a former Columbia professor and expert on film production. Dr. Makar is a 26-year-old-rainforest-forester with a wispy beard that gives him an air of sophistication. He has several degrees and an innate curiosity about the real world. Since graduating from Columbia University, he has maintained a peripatetic existence moving from the Eastern seaboard to the Pacific Northwest, where he's now a professor at Indiana University. He is also deeply concerned about the fate of those species he studies. "Humans are just ecological exploiters, and we're basically a totally different class," he told me. "There are parts of our habitat that we're just not occupying. We're eroding our edges and our views." Dr. Makar is teaching his students a new way to think about ecological decline—that, in essence, it is a response to failures in human perception and imagination. It's a consumer's nightmare for us, he said, "a world gone wild, where we lack agency." On a boat near Oahu's Honu Kai Reef, Dr. Makar pointed at a reef half a kilometer away. "There are sharks in there," he said. "Each year, we lose so much hope in the ocean. Nobody goes in there. Our oceans are losing so much because we're getting too specialized and too busy. Our thoughts about nature are overly spiritual. We're begging too much for beauty." Walking back to his floating laboratory, he described losing his father to lung cancer only a year ago. "I haven't been back to Connecticut since," he said,

Genie games are based on the famous series of time management games by Big Ben Interactive (Under the Bed, The Wormhole, The Time Machine, My Time Machine and My Time Machine 2000), as well as the sequel, "Under the Big Ben." New Yankee: Under the Genie's Thumb continues in Big Ben Interactive's tradition of hand-drawn visuals, witty tongue-in-cheek humor and endless levels of puzzles to solve. Big Ben Interactive's "Genie games" series have become immensely popular with gamers and have amassed millions of fans. In fact, a sequel to New Yankee: Under the Genie's Thumb has already been released - "New Yankee: Under the Big Ben." About Big Ben Interactive: Big Ben Interactive has more than 250 million registered users, among them 13 million players of their "Genie games" series. They develop over 50 different games for major platforms, such as Facebook, Windows, Mac OS, Android and others. Currently they are working on "New Yankee: Under the Genie's Thumb," "Murder on the Orient Express," "The Time Machine 2" and "I Dream of Jeannine." I hope you like it, again and again :). Reviews “ I would like to point out that you don't want to pass on this game! Each game is unique and its on-going storyline is great. You start off with no knowledge and with every difficulty level you improve your skills. This game could get really addicting. I spent a good 45 minutes playing each day while waiting for my son, and my husband to get home from work. This is the kind of game that you can get lost in forever. So don't worry, this is just one of many games to come out in the near future. Thanks for the review. I agree, there's a lot to learn before mastering your profession as a time-traveller. The backgrounds are very nice. Most of them are taken from a lot of the old scenes from movies or video games. The levels are also perfect for the story and I can see that the designers have been working hard to give each level just the right amount of challenges and fun. There's a story behind each level and I feel like I should see the ending of the story before each level if I want to completely enjoy it. You will probably get to many of the puzzles quickly and they really don't drag
