When using the new technology in Career Mode or FIFA Ultimate Team, players will experience the same movement patterns used by the teams during the real matches, providing added realism and authenticity to the game. It's the first time in the franchise that FIFA includes player-specific, motion-capture data to make the game more realistic. Early teams that use the game's new motion capture feature will notice a benefit in the number of available simulation-specific training modes. These modes train the player's skills in preparation for future matches, and include the following: *

- * Ball mastery: Attempt to master each of the game's three realistic ball physics and hit the ground with a precise and controlled strike with the correct ball physics.
- * Midfield stamina: Improve the player's stamina meter for playing the full match, including substitutions.
- * Maxis Experience: Build and construct a soccer stadium in this on-field optimization activity.
- * Passing on the big road: Move the ball from the turf of a training pitch to a different pitch (meaning, grass, turf, or artificial surface) with a controlled pace and pass through balls that are 30+ yards away. It's the first time that we've been able to include all teams from around the globe in our FIFA gameplay. From the big leagues to the small leagues, we've been able to bring the audience a new level of realism in our gameplay, where players can jump off the field and feel the fabric on their boots, and players can immerse themselves in the atmosphere of their favourite teams. To track all of your players' real-life movement patterns, we used Motion Match Technologies' Signature Motion Capture hardware and sensors. Motion Match Technologies' technology leverages a player's real-life body and allows us to capture and track every single move a player makes. The game also takes advantage of smartphone technology to help players track their training habits. For these reasons, when working on the game, it required us to be very aggressive in our testing and development process, and was no easy feat. Our development team verified that our key gameplay features could be re-enacted using real-life data by creating two videos of our gameplay test captures, as

Features Key:

- Re-live the highs and lows of your favourite players. Choose a famous club from around the world. Then, go on a global journey to test your skills against the very best in the world. For example, you can try to rise through the divisions of the Spanish La Liga or the French Ligue 1. And after receiving player feedback to improve your skill, you can take advantage of new squad building possibilities.

HyperMotion Technology

- A real-life movement-capture system using bespoke motion tracking suits to accurately capture players' movement and create a sense of "player presence". The technology allows players with agility, speed, power, strength and balance to perform to their full ability within the game.
- Brings to life the beauty of the game's most thrilling moments. Soak up each epic goal like no other - with full head movements, acceleration, spin, bending, swerving and acceleration, all in amazing detail. Watch players head-butt goalposts, flick the ball out of defensive hand of goalkeepers, shoot through reflexes and run at a speed never before seen in a football game.
- Pushes player awareness beyond the lines of the pitch, where on-pitch actions are matched with off-pitch behaviour. The result? Physically impossible goals and tackles that shift the ball as if it were real.
- ...and more accurate dribbles - as accurate as a real player would execute on the field. Watch a ball roll into off-feet toe-kick, hover a whole foot over the ball, before exploding with pure genius.
